All transfer students are on probation during the term of their transfer. This includes students on an employee and finish transfer as well. Transfers may be revoked if the student does not maintain acceptable levels of attendance, academic achievement and/or a minimal standard of behavior related to the District's Code of Conduct.

"Acceptable levels" are defined as:

1) Attendance that does not place the student at risk of losing credit under Education Code 25.092 or require the District to warn of truancy proceedings under Education Code 25.092.
2) Academic achievement will be defined as academic performance that results in no more than two failing grades at the semester.
3) Compliance with the Student Code of Conduct to the degree that there are no offenses committed by the student resulting in an out of school suspension, a Long Term ISS assignment, placement in a DAEP – Discipline Alternative Education Program (Short Term or Long Term), expulsion, or no more than two misconduct referrals per semester in which the assessed discipline warrants a standard ISS assignment.

The campus administrator may establish other conditions/standards at the time of the transfer agreement conference.

My signature below indicates my understanding of the conditions of probation as a transfer student.
